

YOU HAVE FATTENED YOUR HEARTS ON THE DAY OF SLAUGHTER

The pandemic demonstrated the folly of depending on a labyrinthine network of global supply chains. No sooner had the panic receded than the second woe came quickly in the form of Russia's recent Special Military Operation in Ukraine, and more particularly the West's heavy-handed response to it with sanctions. And now the sabotage of Nord Stream pipelines has awakened the citizens of Europe especially, to just how fragile civilization is and how vulnerable we are. Hundreds of millions of people in the heart of Christendom are facing a dark winter of despair. (In reality, the newly crowned King Charles had already orchestrated the cutoff of credit to all industries related to oil and gas production in what is called the Green New Deal.)

Over the course of the pandemic, few seemed to object to the trillions upon trillions of dollars that were pumped into the financial system, which appears to have been a secret bailout of Deutsche Bank that began with the overnight repo operation of September 2019 and segued into pandemic relief. Due to trillions in counter-party risks, if one too-big-to-fail bank goes bust they all go down and modern civilization with them.

Predictably, the many trillions injected into the system ignited inflation in consumer prices—energy especially. After dismissing inflation as “transitory,” in 2022 the central banks reversed their policy and began aggressively hiking zero-bound interest rates, which presents a very difficult dilemma given the massive amount of sovereign, corporate and personal debt accumulated during the easy money years since the last crash in 2008. Other than an organized and orderly bankruptcy on an unprecedented scale, the only alternative is hyperinflation or a rate-hike-induced crash of money itself.

As if to demonstrate the bankruptcy of the system, and the intractable dilemma facing politicians who are expected to solve everything, during the last week of September the Bank of England was forced to renew its quantitative easing program to prevent the collapse of pension funds that were hit with impossible margins calls due to the slight increase in interest rates.

Such a collapse would not only impoverish pensioners but surely cause a knock-on effect that would ripple through the financial system and bring down the derivatives bubble, now somewhere in the 2 quadrillion dollar range. Given that London is the world's financial capital, (Wall Street is in fact a subsidiary of the City of London) not to mention Satan's earthly throne, the gilded City of London appears to be the lead domino in what will surely be the epic toppling of the gargantuan debt pyramid. The great reset is merely a euphemism for the post-crash system of communism the empire intends to impose.

The crash of the trans-Atlantic financial system is unavoidable. It was, in fact, designed to collapse. Not coincidentally, the day of Jehovah is inevitable too. Are the two the same? It appears that they are. Jesus Christ foretold the sign of his coming and subsequent parousia. Jehovah's Witnesses are thoroughly familiar with the various gospel versions. It is simple and easy to recall—War, food shortages, and pandemics, along with earthquakes and fearful sights from heaven. Surely, anyone who is even marginally aware of current events knows that there is growing concern over the threat of world war---even nuclear war.

The letter of James, though not considered prophetic, offers an additional feature of the last days. James wrote to the beloved brothers a very stern rebuke, saying: “Come, now, you rich men, weep and wail over the miseries that are coming upon you. Your riches have rotted, and your clothing has become moth-eaten. Your gold and silver have rusted away, and their rust will be a witness against you and will consume your flesh. What you have stored up will be like a fire in the last days. Look! The wages you have withheld from the workers who harvested your fields keep crying out, and the cries for help of the reapers have reached the ears of Jehovah of armies. You have lived in luxury and for self-gratification on the earth. You have fattened your hearts on the day of slaughter. You have condemned; you have murdered the righteous one. Is he not opposing you?” — James 5:1-6

Some might be inclined to suppose that stored fire in the last days is in reverence to the all-consuming destruction that will be wrought at Armageddon. But as Jehovah’s Witnesses surely know, the “last days” is an identifiable time period that leads up to the ultimate end of Satan’s system.

It is considered an indisputable fact by the prophet-class of Bethel that the last days began in 1914. According to a certain Governing Body spokesman on JW Broadcast, we are now living in the final part of the last days, and soon will come the final part of the final part of the last days before the last day of the last days. Assuming that tortured statement is true, in what way have we seen the fulfillment of the scripture cited above? Worded differently, has money ever become worthless?

Weimar Germany stands as a small-scale demonstration of how money can become worthless through hyperinflation. However, Jehovah’s judgments are going to be global. Up until the advent of computer networks a global financial collapse has never been possible.

Strangely, gold and silver are no longer considered real money. (Central bankers know better and have vaults stocked with the yellow metal.) By far most of the world’s wealth is stored as electronic bits and bytes encoded with ones and zeros on millions of connected computers. Interestingly, gold and silver do not rust. That is one reason gold is considered a precious metal—it does not even tarnish, let alone rust. So why does the scripture say your gold and silver have rusted away?

Up until modern times gold and silver were universally recognized as money, and the obvious fact that paper money and digitalized currency were unknown to the ancients, gold and silver simply represent money in its modern form. It would appear then that James is speaking about a global financial collapse that will render money worthless. Do not the Hebrew prophets similarly speak about throwing your money into the street as something of no value?

A financial crash will impact everyone—rich and poor alike. Obviously, though, the rich have much more to lose. And that is why the letter of James calls upon the rich men to weep and wail over the loss of their riches. But who are the rich men whom James addresses? They are Christians. And not simply wealthy individuals. Judgment begins with the house of God does it not? It would seem to be providential that the Watchtower's headquarters was named Bethel, which in Hebrew means house of God.

It is a most curious development that over the summer of 2022 the Watchtower ordered all of the 100,000-plus congregations around the world to close out their congregation's operating fund and forward all monies to the Watchtower's treasury by no later than October. (Click here for document 1. Here for doc 2) Curiously, the pope issued the exact same edict to all Catholic institutions for the same period ending in October. For Jehovah's Witnesses, this represents a substantial sum amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars. What is going on?

Prudent financial advisers always recommend diversifying one's portfolio so as to spread the risk. The Watchtower seems to be going contrary to sensible economics by siphoning money from thousands of banks where congregation funds had been parked and concentrating it who-knows-where? Are BlackRock and Vanguard now the Kingdom treasurers? Or has the Watchtower joined the Vatican's private hedge fund? Has a masonic insider intimated to Bethel's money changers how to survive the coming crash? Or has the soothsaying witch of Endor betrayed you? More to the point: How will you stand before the master of the house when he comes to call you to account? How will you explain that you have lost everything entrusted to your care including millions of souls?

Let's be honest: It is the leadership of Jehovah's Witnesses who live in shameless luxury up to this very moment. Do you not live as kings in your Warwick castle by the lake? Most Jehovah's Witnesses could not afford the luxurious lifestyle that the Governing Body and their helpers and lawyers enjoy, which includes luxury automobiles, first-class air travel, vacations in exclusive resort areas, all-paid healthcare and personal physicians. Is a private jet not something that Jehovah's faithful and discreet slave ought to add to their wish list of goodies?

To help finance their extravagant lifestyle the Governing Body and their faceless board of directors have robbed thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses---evicting them from their meeting places, which devout Christians built with their own hands and paid for with money they earned and solemnly dedicated to the exclusive use of Jehovah God. And do you assume that just because those lowly elders and publishers whom you dispossessed have not spoken out publicly against the robbery perpetrated against them by the high priests of pure worship that their complaint has not reached the ears of Jehovah of armies?

How much money did the Watchtower receive for selling out the sheep and promoting the vaccine? Not that it matters. What does matter is how many Jehovah's Witnesses have already died as a result of obediently following the theocratic direction of the dictators of Sodom. Jehovah surely knows how many righteous souls have been murdered by you! He has seen you condemn the righteous who dare to question you.

What will happen to your billion-dollar booty when the financial system blows out? Where will you go when your private estate by the lake is confiscated and taken off the grid? Who will even listen to you when the last days really begin?

You truly have fattened your hearts on the day of slaughter.
